

GOVERNMENT OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA OFFICE OF POLICE COMPLAINTS

Public Affairs Internship Program 2013

The District of Columbia Office of Police Complaints (OPC) is seeking creative and motivated students for its 2012 public affairs internship program, which offers excellent opportunities to develop valuable skills in public relations and communications, while becoming familiar with the growing field of police oversight.

OPC is a government agency that receives, investigates and resolves complaints from the public alleging police misconduct by officers of the Metropolitan Police Department and the D.C. Housing Authority Police Department. The agency's public affairs interns will assist the public affairs specialist in all aspects of community relations. Individuals having an interest in government, communications, law enforcement and/or public affairs are encouraged to apply. Bilingual skills are a plus.

Responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Developing communication and outreach materials
- Planning and participating in community outreach events
- Establishing media contacts and promoting news coverage of the agency's work
- Drafting news releases, reports and website content
- Responding to D.C. Freedom of Information Act requests

Interested Public Affairs Intern candidates should possess the following:

- Demonstrated understanding of public relations principles
- Solid communication skills (verbal and written)
- Excellent time management skills
- Strong research skills

Qualifications:

- Candidate for a bachelor's or master's degree in communications, journalism, public affairs, public relations or related field

There is the possibility that the summer internship may be a paid position. Fall and spring internships are unpaid, but can be done in conjunction with a college course for academic credit.

Application Deadlines for 2013: Please submit a cover letter, resume and writing sample by the following date:

Spring	January 18, 2013
Summer	April 5, 2013
Fall	August 30, 2013
